The Organizers

The conference is being organized by Red Flag Oversight Consultancy Services, Gurgaon with the help and support of the knowledge partners, institutions and sponsors.

Red Flag was established in 2009 as a privately held company. It brings together the oversight expertise from private sector, public sector, NGO's, United Nations, Multi-Lateral Government agencies and International Financial institutions. It provides 'one-stop-shop' for accessing confidential, strategic and timely oversight solutions for the top management of entities across the world. For example, it helps the Board and the stake holders maintain the desired level of accountability and good governance. It also helps federal, provincial and local bodies launch, assess or enhance the transparency, ethics, anticorruption and good governance programmes.

Red Flag also operates a whistle blower facility under the name EthicsCall.net. Several other services in addition to Ethics management are offered by the Red Flag that includes confidential investigations, anti-corruption, risk management, training, corporate governance, evaluation, audit committee interface, reshaping the internal audit, capacity building, and more.

About the Conference

This 2-day conference is expected to bring forth greater awareness and excellence in procurement governance through sharing of best of repository knowledge, current thinking and future scenarios.

Strategic alignment of procurement function with entity core objectives is the main theme of the conference. The main theme is divided into four sub-themes.

It targets all small and medium enterprises, large multi-national companies, and government departments, those under framework agreements with international organizations or contractors under Public Private Partnership.

Procurement functions have ramifications that go into realm of financing of terrorism or money laundering of proceeds of crime or have concerns related to kickbacks and bribery. A minor infraction in international contract, for example, may lend any entity black listed for years with disastrous consequences.

Entities that have fine-tuned their procurement function with the power of technology and new business paradigms such as reverse auctioning have significantly reduced their procurement costs.

Opportunity to interact on the art of using novel ideas adopted by the global business community is one of the spin-offs of this conference.

Yours benefits from the Conference

- Learn and recognize good practice from those who adopted them to create advantage for their entities.
- Build professional confidence to successfully negotiate barriers to international markets.
- Recognize and manage actual frauds and corruption and manage perceptions about them
- Understand and apply strategic global scenarios to streamline procurement
- Induct innovation and new ideas to reduce the cost of procurement.
